The Disease among Horses.

Our readers will have been made aware by the telegraphic dispatches published from day to day that a new and very remarkable disease has broken out among horses, and has swept with amazing rapidity over the greater part of this continent. The disease given to the disease by veterinary surgeons is "epizootic," and the symptoms are simply those of an aggravated form of catarrh, accompanied with fever, loss of appetite, and a general prostration of the system. With proper care the complaint is easily overcome, and the mortality, considering the almost universal spread of the disease, has been uncommonly light. Some few momentary diseases somewhat similar to epizootic have manifested among horses in this city, but it did not spread over the country on this side of the mountains as the disease on the eastern side. If it be true that the complaint is caused by some peculiar atmospheric influence (to which the animals are susceptible, as some writers allude, that may account for the non-prevalence of the disease on the Pacific slope to the same extent as it has prevailed on the Atlantic side. Or it may be that the complaint among horses here, to which we have made reference, was not epizootic, but some other disease of a much less contagious character; and if so, it is quite possible that the owners of horse-flesh in this country may yet have to deal with this strange enemy, which has done so much mischief and caused so much inconvenience in the various towns and cities throughout Canada and the Eastern States. In order that our readers may know how to treat the disease as well as how to prevent the contagion spreading, should it break out in this country, we give place to the following comments upon the subject, taken from one of our Canadian exchanges. "So far as our observation extends, and from all we can learn, there is very little, if any, difference in the form of attack or symptoms of the disease, and its duration is about the same in all cases. As yet but a few fatal cases are mentioned, and these are probably the result of some complication with other and previously existing diseases, and there is no doubt that much injury is done by using nostrum mixtures, which prolong their sufferings. The most skillful veterinary surgeons find no difficulty in the diagnosis of this disease, and they find it necessary to use but little medicine, relying chiefly upon strict cleanliness of the stables, keeping the air pure as possible, by removing all offensive accumulations, and for the relief and comfort of the horses, administering washing the nose and mouth frequently, so that the animal need not swallow the offensive matter which is constantly secreted and discharged. When any medicines are necessary to be administered internally, the advice of a surgeon should always be sought, but there should be every attention paid to sprinkling and cleansing the stable with some safe and efficient deodorizer and disinfectant, and the nose and mouth of the horses must be washed out and kept as clean as possible. As many owners of horses may not be familiar with the approved methods of treatment which have been adopted and said to have proved highly successful in the United States, we would call their attention to the new odorless and non-poisonous deodorizer and disinfectant, Bromo-Chloralum, prepared by Messrs. Tilden & Co. of New York, as we are informed it is now being used by some of our principal owners of horses, and can be obtained at the drug stores. It is recommended as altogether superior to any of the usual articles employed for the same purposes, for the reason that it has no odor of its own, contains no poison, and has none of the objections urged against against carbolic acid, chloride of lime, and the poisonous salts of copper, zinc, &c. Bromo-Chloralum is said to be a wash to arrest the discharge from the nose, and to cleanse the mouth, relieving the horse from sickness and the stomach, which would otherwise result from the excessive secretion and discharge of the offensive matter. In addition to this, by sprinkling the floor of the stables, it disinfects the stable, and the premises rendered comfortable for the horses by day and night."

MANAVILLA COCOA.—No BREAKFAST TABLE is complete without this delicious beverage. The Chicle says, "Various importers and manufacturers have attempted to obtain a reputation for their prepared Cocoa, but we doubt whether any thorough success has been achieved until Messrs. Taylor Brothers discovered the extraordinary qualities of Manavilla Cocoa. Adapting their perfect system of preparation to this finest of all species of the Theobroma, they have produced an article which surpasses every other Cocoa in the market. Entire solubility, a delicate cream, and a rare concentration of the purest elements of nutrition, distinguish the Manavilla Cocoa above all others. For home-comforts and invalids we could not recommend a more agreeable or valuable beverage." Gold medals have been won by all Grocers, of whom also may be had Taylor Brothers' Original Homoeopathic Cocoa and Soluble Chocolate Slices. Mills—Brix Lane, London. Export Chocolate Mills, Bruges, Belgium.

FAVORITE SCENE AT A CONCERT.—The officers of the Major's ship Grampus, stationed at Vancouver, British Columbia, on the 24th day, at a place called Redoubt a few miles distance, in aid of the Fortunate Funds. Mr. Boyne, Chief Gunner Instructor, forty years of age, a robust, strong, and cheerful character, was warmly applauded. His reappearance to the orchestra, his applause and laughter were so hearty, that the officers continued struggling, and the merriest was seen to be in full swing. Doctors were summoned, but before their arrival all motion had ceased, and in full view of the audience he had died.

Memory presides over the past. Tell a coffee over the present. The first time in a rich temple hung with glorious trophies, and lined with tapestries, but tell a coffee has been shriveled and that is every breakfast table. Its aroma wafts the mark like a spirit and can be found for sale at every respectable dealer in British Columbia. Beware of spurious imitations.
